AS SEEN ON:

International Speaker, Author, Executive Coach, & Podcast

I'm a growth and leadership expert with over 25 years of business experience working with companies growing fast. I prepare companies and individual contributors to achieve breakthrough growth. Each fully customized live experience includes audience engagement, original research, compelling stories, and practical takeaways that move participants to take new actions. I help companies cultivate an ownership culture and provide a new take on change with growth leadership. My weekly column for Inc. Magazine (monthly reach of 21 million visitors) covers leadership and fast-growth.

This book is a brutally candid guide to overcoming your fears and attaining profound success.

"Gene is a big part of my success in my business and life. Gene challenged me. I have been able to become an authority in my industry."
